Minister's Column

Friends, Some of you need to move from being believers into being followers. Being a follower of Jesus is an entirely different thing than just being a believer.

The Bible tells us in James 2:19 that even the demons believe, but we must go beyond believing into following.

There are different stories in the bible where Jesus would say, "Come and follow me."

We can read about these encounters, such as in Luke 9:57-62, where prospective followers came up with various excuses: One person wanted to "test drive" his oxen first (a common misinterpretation of a different parable, but fitting the theme of prioritizing worldly concerns).

Others needed to go back and say goodbye to their folks.

"Can I go do this and do that first?"

For Jesus, the excuses were never anything more than that. He kept moving forward, while people found reasons not to follow Him.

Jesus even addressed the excuse of disciples pointing to other disciples and comparing themselves. We see this in John 21:21-22, where Jesus responds, "What about him? What if he kind of..." Jesus looks and says, "Forget about him. You follow me."

The biggest difference between believers and followers is sacrifice.

The disciples left their nets and followed Jesus, as described in Matthew 4:18-22.

Paul counted his life as already lost for Christ's sake in Philippians 3:7-8.

They were followers who were willing to give their all. They were willing to sacrifice. They weren't just believers, sitting on their hands; they made the sacrifice to follow Jesus.

Are you willing to give your all today, or are you just a believer?

Lord Jesus, I'm so sorry for the times that I just live my life as a believer. I want to grow beyond that. I want to be a follower. My life is Yours! Please come and fill me so that I have the courage to follow You wherever You lead me. Amen. —Dennis

Don't Sit In My Pew

by Tim & Mary Alice Lovelace

Well I went camping just a while back with a couple of high school friends.

And on Sunday morning I wanted to find a church to worship in.

So I packed my truck and headed out,
it was there in a cloud of dust.

It was the Ebenezer Fellowship Non-Denomination Bapti Costal Free Will Church.

When I walked in they were ready to start, and that little church was packed.

There was only one seat in the very front row even though I really wanted the back.

So I walked right in and I took a seat,
a hush fell over the place.

And this sweet little gray haired woman walked up and said boy I got something to say.

Folks around here call me Granny, I'm as sweet as I can be.

Well I volunteer for everything they couldn't make it without me.

I teach Sunday School, I sew and bake, why I'm even in charge of the Christmas play!

And there's only one thing I ask in return, a lesson you should learn.

I've been sittin' right here for at least 40 years, and that's the way it's gonna be.

I can tell that you are new around here
so you'd better get one thing clear.

If you know what's good for you, don't sit in my pew.

Well I walked to the back of the church and I was feeling just about as tall as a flea.

One of those Deacons walked up and handed me a brown ice cold metal folding chair.

So I sat out there and I listened to the choir as they sang "I shall not be moved".

And then the preacher looked at me and he said 'now we want our special guest to stay when the service is over for some of Granny's Red Velvet

Cake. And that's what I did.

But just about the time they were saying the blessing, I noticed I didn't have a fork.

Well, I figured I'd caused enough commotion for one day. So I thought I'm gonna ease on over there to the kitchen and find the utensil drawer and help myself. And that's what I did..

But just about the time I found that utensil drawer, guess who spun me around? Yep, ole Granny!

Stay out of my kitchen, you know it belongs to me.

I been cookin' in here for at least 40 years, and that's the way it's gonna be.

So if you need a fork or if you need a spoon, the next time stay in the other room.

Boy you'd better pay attention.

Stay out of my kitchen!

And then she reached up, kissed me on the cheek and said "you know,

Granny hopes you'll come back next week. But if you do, don't get in my parking space, don't sing so loud, wear a coat and tie, come early for Sunday School, stay out of my kitchen, but most of all...

I can tell that you are new around here so you'd better get one thing clear.

If you know what's good for you, stay out of my pew.

And remember, Granny loves you!

Children's Prayers to God

Dear God, maybe Cain and Abel would not kill each other so much if they each had their own rooms. It works out Ok with me and my brother.
